The Number to call in North America when it's show time!

Delivering your tradeshow exhibit on-time and intact is a commitment that's shared by the entire organization at Reimer Express Lines. But we don't stop there!

One call to our Tradeshow "EXPO" line puts you in touch with one of our bilingual tradeshow service representatives, who will co-ordinate every aspect of your exhibit move. Backed by one of the most sophisticated information systems in the industry, we can easily track and identify your tradeshow freight, arrange for additional liability coverage and even offer a full range of expedited and time-based services that guarantee round-the-clock pickup and delivery of your small cartons, large crates or full loads. And with the added benefits of using our exclusive "On-Time or Free" delivery guarantee for your tradeshow shipments moving between Canada and the United States, you can rest assured that you will never have to worry if your booth made it to the show.

Our toll-free EXPO line gives you direct access to one of our experienced and dedicated people that work closely with show management and service contractors at big convention halls or small hotels. We even have a network of tradeshow managers to assist you at the show site.

When it comes to handling your tradeshow freight, there's only one number to call in North America when it's showtime.
